6. Interaction with customers

Keno does not have direct contact with customers who play Keno. However, Tabcorp encourages accredited agents, outlets and their staff to engage with customers and provide information (supplied by Tabcorp) on Keno to customers upon request.

In a venue, a person who approaches a staff member for information about, or assistance with, a gambling problem or who is displaying behaviours that may be related to problem gambling will be directed to the Venue's Responsible Gambling Officer/Gaming Duty Manager or a senior employee (preferably the Agent) for help.

A customer displaying signs of distress or unacceptable behaviour will be approached by a staff member who will offer assistance. These signs may include, but are not be limited to:

- a person either gambling every day or finding it difficult to stop gambling at closing time
- gambling for extended periods. That is, gambling for three hours or more without a break
- avoiding contact while gambling, communicating very little with anyone else, barely reacting to events going on around them, making requests to borrow money from staff or other customers or continuing to gamble with the proceeds of large wins
- displaying aggressive, anti-social or emotional behaviour while gambling

This assistance may take the form of:

- staff interacting with the customer and encouraging them to take a break from their gambling
- staff offering the customer some refreshments (eg. cup of tea or coffee) in a quieter, more private part of the gaming venue.

If the behaviour could be due to problem gambling, the customer will be referred to the Responsible Gambling Officer/ Venue Manager Duty Manager or Gaming Manager.

Keno respects and protects the privacy of our customers. Our Privacy Policy is available on our website www.tabcorp.com.au.

All incidents will be recorded in the outlets Responsible Gambling Registers.

7. Pre-commitment

Tabcorp encourages, and supports all accredited agents to encourage, all customers who play Keno to set a time and money limit according to their circumstances.

Keno outlets/venues display signs that recommend customers “set a limit and stick to it”, where Keno terminals are located. In addition the Keno Game Guide has information on circumstances that can lead to overspending. These include:

- gambling every day or finding it hard to stop at closing time
- gambling for long periods, that is, for three hours or more without a break
- avoiding contact while gambling, communicating very little, barely reacting to events going on around the player
- trying to borrow money from staff or other customers or continuing to gamble with the proceeds of large wins
- aggressive, anti-social or emotional behaviour while gambling
- trying to win back gambling losses
- when feeling stressed or unhappy
- losing control because of excessive consumption of alcohol

Accredited agents and outlet staff will support customers who inform them of a pre-commitment decision, by encouraging them to keep their pre- commitment decision.

8. Staff Gambling Policy

All employees of Tabcorp are required to comply with the Tabcorp Gambling Employee Policy. Adherence to this policy is a strict requirement of employment or contract with Tabcorp. Non-compliance is treated as a serious breach of a key policy.

The policy places a range of restrictions on the ability of our employees to participate or otherwise engage in Keno activities operated by us whether on or off duty. This includes not permitting our employees to take part in Keno whilst on-duty unless this is part of an employees' official duties

Keno outlet staff are not permitted to play Keno while on duty (including rostered breaks) unless required to do so in order to perform their normal work duties. Licensed venues owned and operated independently of Tabcorp have policies that strictly prohibit gambling by employees whilst on duty (including rostered breaks). We encourage these venues to also have in place policies relating to the participation of employees in gambling products at their venue during off-duty periods.

They are given responsible gambling training as part of their employment induction. Any staff member who indicates that they have a gambling problem will be directed to the venue's Responsible Gambling Officer/Duty Manager. Any contact with a staff member who indicates that they have a gambling problem will occur in a manner that respects the staff member's right to privacy.

9. Support Services

Keno displays responsible gambling messages and makes available information for gambling support services for individuals and/or their families as to where to obtain assistance to manage a gambling problem. Keno is committed to facilitating strong links between Keno outlets and local problem gambling support services, including encouraging regular meetings with local Gambler's Help services.

Examples of these meetings may include:

- holding annual staff training sessions, run by the local Gambler's Help service
- twice yearly/regular meetings between the Keno outlet/manager and the Gambler's Help service

Details of these meetings should be kept in a Responsible Gambling Folder/Register to be located in the gaming room/ Keno outlet. The meeting details must include:

- attendees at the meeting
- topics discussed
- outcomes / action items from the meeting

11. Minors

It is illegal for minors to gamble. Keno outlets/venues will display signs where Keno is sold advising customers of this prohibition.

- announcing that morning tea is now available;
- announcing a member's draw;
- the commencement of activities such as morning melodies.

Clocks are in all major areas of the outlet so customers are made aware of the passage of time. Outlet staff will mention the time when making announcements about venue activities.
